DESECRATED, NEGLECTED AND ABUSED, BAILEY CANYON'S BEAUTY STILL THRILLS

Members of the Sierra Club from South Pasadena came up to Sierra Madre Sunday last. They had a beautiful time. They parked their cars over near the Monastery, then started on foot up through Bailey Canyon. Right there at the Canyon entrance there's a rock-marked sign that has served rather long now as a target for both guns and weather and which reads, "City of Sierra Madre, KEEP OUT, Closed Area." Then, a few steps further on, blocking the old Sealing road into the canyon, there's a padlocked gate—meant evidently just to keep out cars and not pedestrians, for there isn't any fence, although that sign would still be a trouble even for those on foot—if they happen to be sensitive and conscientious, as most nature-lovers are.

Next, just beyond the gate, you can see about a thousand old newspapers and other trash—rotting into the ground and trying to hide, with the friendly grass and weeds—convincing there's trash like that a lot of the way—right on up to the ruins of the old Greek theatre and picnic grounds, God-awful now in their dead desolation. Yet, impressively, the Canyon—in spite of all this, bravely, as if refusing to be abased and humiliated regardless of human perversity—getting lovelier all the time.

Those visitors from South Pasadena, having passed the campsite, now came to the foot of the famous zig-zag Trail. There were women in the party as well as men—trim and fine, sound of heart and limb. They'd better be, for this zig-zag up the steep sides of the Canyon is no mere lover's lane. It's like some of those ancient "boot-lace" donkey-roads up to the little old fortified mountain hamlets in Mediterranean lands—meant to discourage invaders.

Going up this trail you gain elevation at a rate to amaze you. Almost like flight—only here you're wings are your legs and you know it. But your brain soars so. Such air! Intoxicating. Scented

No Food Stamp Store Yet Designated For Sierra Madre

Sierra Madre has not yet received notification where relief clients may buy food stamps with their relief cash and get a 50 per cent "bonus," although sales centers in 27 locations will be opened next Friday. The bonus is blue food stamps good for surplus commodities which are given free with purchases of the orange stamps, good for any commodity at any grocery store or market. Relief clients get 50 cents worth of blue stamps free with every dollar of orange stamps. Business for retailers will be increased, according to Walter Chambers, state relief administration director, by opening of the sale of food stamps, and health standards of relief clients will also be improved by providing them free with additional wholesome food.

The team is composed of 19 members and its directress, Lillian Holman, and though active for the last 24 years, has never before appeared in this district. This year it came through the invitation of Mrs. Mary Wammock, deputy grand matron of the district, who presided with Cecil Sterling Price, matron of the Sierra Madre Chapter. Mrs. Bess Pierce, past grand treasurer of the state, presided in the east. Officers of this chapter, assisted in serving luncheon which was catered by Tiny Piper.

CHRISTIAN CEREMONY AND JAPANESE CUSTOMS MARK BETHANY CHURCH WEDDING

TWO distinct ceremonies subtly blending the best social traditions and Christian customs of the occident with the formal post marriage ritual of Japan, Saturday evening, when in the presence of over two hundred friends, Americans as well as Japanese, and many relatives, Miss Yoneko Aisawa was married to Rudolph Mitsuru Hashimoto.

The Christian wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Stewart R. Sheriff. Miss Aisawa, who has lived most of her life in Sierra Madre, has attended Bethany Church and conducted a Sunday school class there for the last several years. She was given in marriage by her father who is a member of a Buddhist Church in Los Angeles.

Miss Aisawa, gowned in a white lace wedding gown, with a white lace veil and a crown of seed pearls, entered the church to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march on the arm of her father, Frank Y. Aisawa. She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Attending the bride were her sister, Miss Toshiko Aisawa, maid of honor, who wore a formal gown of rose moire taffeta with matching bolero, and carried a colonial bouquet of deep rose carnations and gardenias, and Mrs. Charles Kido, Mrs. Frank Takeyama and Miss Yoshi Matsumoto, bridesmaids, whose gowns of blue faille taffeta were fashioned with full skirts and peplum jackets. Each carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias and delphinium.

A charming note was given to the wedding by the Misses Kimiko Shimizu, Mary Honda, Toshi Horimoto and Yaeoka Takasugi, gowned in brightly colored Japanese kimonos and wearing gardenias in their hair, who entered the church preceding the bride. Her attendants, Reiko Hashiue, the flower girl, wore a bouffant pink frock.

Fred Takano attended Mr. Hashimoto as best man. Ushers were David Aisawa, brother of the bride; Charles Kido and Frank Takeyama. The church was decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums and Kentia palms. Miss Sumiye Hashiue played the wedding march, and Miss Helen Nomura sang three appropriate songs, accompanied by Mrs. Nell Vieira.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Bethany Hall, where Tadato Shizuoka, acting as chairman, introduced many friends of the young couple including Mr. and Mrs. T. Hoshino, the bride's kunin (go between) for the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Hanyuki, the bride's yakunin for the bridegroom. Each spoke at length on the characters and accomplishments of the young couple. At the close of this formal ceremony the bride cut her cake and refreshments were served by members of the Esplanade Club.

Among well known residents of Sierra Madre who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Oskar Seiling, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carey, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. R. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Decker, Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Okamoto, Mrs. John H. Robertson, Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, Mrs. Jack Paschall and daughters Marilyn and Genelle; Mrs. S. R. Sheriff and daughter Mary.

Upon returning from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hashimoto will make their home at 3050 Lanfranco street, Los Angeles.

—Margaret Eliason.

Not A Dollar Is Owed By Bethany

Church Enjoys A Splendid Year With All Departments Growing

Though it had built and paid for a new Sunday school building during the 12-month period, Bethany Church entered the new year without a dollar of outstanding obligation after carrying on its many activities and contributing generously to various faith missions and the Bible Institute. This was revealed in reports submitted at the annual meeting Friday evening, January 19. A total of nearly $8,000 was taken in and expended for the year, not including the new building. Most of this amount went for the congregation's expenses and missionary work. About $2,100 went to the missions and the Bible Institute of Los Angeles received about $1,100.

Interesting highlights from committee reports show a total enrollment of 319 in the Sunday school, with an average attendance of 275. Rev. S. R. Sheriff performed six wedding ceremonies, and conducted 12 funerals, the same as last year. An increase was shown in the number of young people belonging to the three societies—two for white Americans, and one for Japanese Americans.

The group in charge of gospel meetings in prison road camps turned in a fine report. They gave out about 11,000 tracts, Scripture pieces and testaments during the year. Every other Sunday they held a meeting at Camp 6, near Mt. Baldy. From a total number of 60, the voluntary attendance is approximately 30.

The fifth annual convention of the Associated Christian Youth, an organization made up of Japanese young people of high school and junior college age, will be held in Sierra Madre February 16, 17, 18, it was reported, and plans are now being made for the big meeting, which is again expected to bring several hundred visitors.

Those whose terms of office expired were reelected to succeed themselves.

Driver Cited When Truck And Auto Hit On Boulevard

W. J. Wark, 84½ South Hermosa avenue, was cited to appear in court Monday on charges of violation of certain sections of the vehicle code, the aftermath of an accident Tuesday morning when his milk truck collided with a car driven by Donald Thayer, 197 West Montecito avenue, and Sylvia Thayer, 10 years old, received head bruises.

Wark was driving west on Sierra Madre Blvd., intending to turn right into the driveway at 633 West Sierra Madre Blvd. He looked in the rear mirror and saw Thayer's car but thought it was quite a distance behind. When he turned right Thayer's car hit the truck, turning it over. Several cases of milk bottles were scattered in the street, and the right side of the truck was smashed. Wark received head bruises.

With Mr. Thayer were his wife and daughters, Carla and Sylvia, who were riding in the back seat. The latter struck her head on the front seat when the cars collided. The Thayers were driving west on the boulevard and according to Mr. Thayer, without warning, the truck made a right turn in front of him. He was unable to stop quickly enough to avoid the collision. The Thayer car was slightly damaged.

Sierra Madreans In Notable Program At Pasadena Sunday

Miss Catherine McBurney, well known pianist and organist of this city, will appear on the program of the annual complimentary concert of the Pasadena Music-Arts Club, to be given Sunday, January 28, at 3:15 p.m. in the ballroom of the Vista del Arroyo Hotel in Pasadena. Other well known artists to be heard include Elizabeth Morgridge Mills, violin; Gladys Holman, featured soloist with the Schubert Chorists of Pasadena and soprano soloist of the First Baptist Church of Pasadena, Samuel I. Kirk, baritone soloist who has been heard here at the Congregational church, and Helen Shipley and Kurt Metzke, interpretive dancers. The latter is an Arcadian, has made professional appearances in many of the capitals on the continent, and locally in Max Reinhardt productions. With his partner Miss Shipley, he will be seen in original dance interpretations.

The Music-Arts Club, a group of the younger musicians and artists of the San Gabriel Valley, hopes that all those who enjoy good music will avail themselves of this yearly opportunity of hearing the club's artist members in concert, and announce that it is open to all music lovers without charge.

13 Graduate At Wilson Next Week

Local Students Prominent In Midyear Commencement Program

With no mid-year graduation exercises at the Sierra Madre grammar or St. Rita's parochial school, local interest is centered at PJC and at Woodrow Wilson Junior High school in Pasadena, where, Friday, February 2, 13 Sierra Madre boys and girls will receive diplomas. Max Turner, a member of the Pasadena Board of Education, will present diplomas to a comparatively small class of Wilson graduates. Not as many students are graduating this semester, with 67 leaving Wilson compared to 108 last year. At the five junior high schools in Pasadena, 499 pupils will receive diplomas against 545 in the spring of 1939.

Sierra Madre students who will graduate next week are Betty Jo Adams, 227 North Wilson avenue; Marjorie Bellah, 199 North Hermosa avenue; Ernest Breton, Jr., 60 East Carter; Bob Burris, 32 Park avenue; Geraldine Davis, 132 South Hermosa avenue; Sylvia M. Betty Adams will give a pledge, "My Road."

Upperclassmen will witness presentation of graduation awards on the afternoon of February 1 in the auditorium. June Solnit will preside. She has a distinctive class record in physical education, being a G.A.A. song leader and receiving her class number, school letter and all-city emblem for participation in after school sports. She has been captain of hockey and soccer teams and participated in the baseball playday at Eliot, and basketball, soccer and volleyball playdays at Wilson.

Betty Jo Adams also won her number and took part in the creative dance at the recent playday. Bob Burris received letters for two seasons of baseball, and for one season each of football and basketball.

Donald Keys and Ernest Breton will receive certificates from the Southern California Automobile Club for their work on the safety force. Donald was on the force two semesters, and Ernest, one semester.

"Roads," the class theme, will be carried out in decorations and program at the traditional senior banquet, by the 10-2's of Wilson, January 30, in the Willard cafeteria. Edith Richter is on the decorations committee, and June Solnit will be toastmistress. The class prophecy will be read by Vivian Weber and Donald Keys. "An Appreciation to the Faculty," "An Appreciation to the Faculty," will be read by Betty Jo Adams. Val Mariotti will read the class will. Val was chairman of the clean-up committee of which Donald Keys was a member.

Thirteen students are candidates for graduation next month from the lower division of Pasadena Junior College, although formal exercises are not held until June. They are Florence Alta Bowden, Gordon Blanke, Henry William Braumann, Edward F. DeLong, Sam S. Embree, Elma Norine Fix, Margaret Loretta Hoevel, Shirley Kvitka, Dorothy Levinson, Mary Kathleen Pulling, George Arthur Thompson, Alan S. Wood and Charles Sumner Winston. From the upper division are two Sierra Madreans, Jean R. Weekes and Bonita Williams.

Practice Sessions For Basketball Players Arranged

An ambitious young people's basketball program has been outlined by the boys and girls committee of the Kiwanis club and first practice will be held at the Congregational Church Monday evening.

Sixth, seventh, and eighth grade boys will meet Monday evening from 6:30 to 7:30, and girls will practice the same evening from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. Tuesday evenings, boys of junior high school age will meet from 7 to 8 o'clock, and from 8 to 10 o'clock the older boys will practice. Lorne Pratt has been named to supervise the boys play, assisted by "Ugh" Ingraham and Kenneth Allan and Mr. Herberger. Lorne, Virginia Smith and Mr. Herberger will coach the girls.

There will be six weeks of play, according to S. E. McElfresh, chairman of the youth committee, who with Clarence Huntsinger, Dick Lees and Waverly Pratt, is working to make the movement a great success.

March Of Dimes Goes On Here Until Saturday Night

Continuing to sell buttons in the "March of Dimes," a battle against infantile paralysis, Mrs. Grace B. Caukin, in charge of the local drive, will be at her post in front of the bank until Saturday evening. The sale is progressing satisfactorily, but since the winter is so mild, it increases the possibilities of an epidemic, and every Sierra Madrean who is not wearing a button is urged to do his part to help fight this dread disease.

First Fruit Of Youth Movement

Craft Classes To Be Organized Monday Will Have Workshop at Park House

First definite step in Sierra Madre's youth movement which began last fall is inauguration of craft classes which will meet at the city parkhouse, beginning Monday with Mrs. Pearl E. Bledsoe as instructor. Classes for children will be held daily, except Saturday, from 3 to 5 o'clock; on Saturday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock. Adult classes will be held Tuesday afternoons from 12:30 to 3 p.m., and adults may attend Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, from 10 to 12 a.m. and 12:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Bledsoe is qualified to teach copper work, leather tooling and carving, crepe paper, serpentine paper, six different kinds of bead work, wood burning, wood carving, creation of small objects of furniture and bric-a-brac, spoon craft and weaving, gourds, plaster plaques, cork craft, plaster dolls, moulding, oil painting for decoration, hammered metals, metal embossing, block printing, bakelite, jewelry making, weaving, rug making, tailoring, dressmaking, knitting and scrap craft.

The city will appropriate $20 for materials, it was decided at Tuesday's council meeting, and this material will be sold to the classes, thereby creating a revolving fund. The only cost to members of the classes will be for the materials they use. Instruction will be free. It is hoped that much of the necessary tools and instruments will be donated.

If returns from 175 questionnaires sent out by the youth committee headed by Clarence H. Huntsinger is indicative of the desire of young Sierra Madreans to turn their leisure time into profit and pleasure, the park house should be filled Monday. Responses to the questionnaires show that 101 boys and girls are interested in arts and 108 in crafts.

Highest interest is in athletics, with 489 votes for this form of recreation. A breakdown of a chart compiled by the committee shows that basketball got 73 votes; football 57; baseball 68; tennis 64; volleyball 55; soccer 22; badminton 18; swimming 40; hockey 3; boxing 12; horseback riding 17; hiking 12; ping-pong 7; bicycling 12; track 6, and miscellaneous 43.

An interesting angle brought out in the chart is the fact that girls outnumber boys in the 10 and 12 age groups, and 13 to 15 age groups. Their desires for drama and music clubs, while in the group of 16 years and older, the number was the same, with six boys and six girls over 16 indicating an interest in drama and seven boys and seven girls interested in music.

A total of 97 boys and girls want to belong to clubs and 148 have hobbies they wish to further. Four hundred questionnaires were sent out and about half of that number returned. The chart was compiled from 176 answers.

Samuel L. Graham was elected worshipful master, Reading L. Davis, senior warden, and Henry Nord, junior warden. All three were advanced for meritorious service in the line of succession. C. H. Sandage was elected treasurer and Raymond D. Andrews, P. M., secretary.

Other offices filled by appointment of the incoming master are Frederic C. Herrman, chaplain;

Dial Phones In Service Here Soon

Heavy New Equipment To Be Installed And Building Much Enlarged

Dial telephones will be installed in Sierra Madre, and to accommodate the heavy new equipment for an automatic exchange at the local California Water & Telephone Company office on North Baldwin avenue, the present building will be remodeled and considerably enlarged, according to O. A. Prest, district manager.

Next week work on changing instruments will begin, and from now on all new telephones installed will be of the automatic type. Subscribers will not be able to use them as automatic telephones, however, until the automatic equipment is all in place, which probably be in May. By that time work on the building will have to be completed. This will include redesigning the building, and inasmuch as the apparatus is very heavy, where the automatic equipment is placed, the section will have to be completely rebuilt. A load of 125 pounds per square foot will be put on that section.

The latest of equipment will be used and when finished and ready for use, about October 1, the old board will be replaced by a special service manual board and an automatic board for general services. The manual board will be used for out-of-town calls, information, etc.

"Work will start next week, but it will be gradual," said Mr. Prest. "We have been thinking about the change for a long time, and for that reason Sierra Madre was given the Custer prefix. The present location of the Sierra Madre office has been found to be satisfactory, and with remodeling and additions, besides making it fireproof, it will serve the purpose nicely."

For the time being, the change to dial phones is limited to Sierra Madre only. There will be no additional cost to subscribers. Message unit service which replaced the old extended service this month has proven very satisfactory. Subscribers to message unit service automatically receive the same advantages of extended service and in addition receive a 30 per cent reduction in charges for station-to-station calls to Los Angeles and other nearby points.

"We will have the latest of everything in the Sierra Madre office, following up message unit service. As more people become familiar with the benefits of this service its popularity will increase. It is going over very nicely in Sierra Madre," Mr. Prest added.

Hollywood's Big Shots Coming Here

Hollywood is coming back to Sierra Madre—at least a lot of its singing and dancing stars and comedians are. They are to appear at the grammar school auditorium Saturday night, February 17, at a big vaudeville show sponsored by the local Veterans of Foreign Wars post.

Some of the big names of Hollywood are on the grand list of entertainers who have agreed to appear at the benefit performance. A number of them have made Sierra Madreans hold their sides on the occasion of former visits. Among these are the ever popular Leo Carrillo, Billy "Sneeze" Gilbert and Larry Blake who are great favorites with hometowners and who are always willing to come back. James Burke, feature player in the picture "Dead End" and in "Day at the Circus," will make his first appearance here. It will also be the first appearance in Sierra Madre of Lew Mosconi, Ziegfeld's greatest dancer.

An outstanding attraction on the list of entertainers will be Roper's juvenile accordion band of 20 pieces that has scored a tremendous hit wherever it has appeared. The band is composed of boys and girls trained to play as a single instrument and their range of selections is said to be endless.

John Hora, senior deacon; Boyd Keith, junior deacon; Henry Rintelman, marshal; Clair E. Gerty, senior steward; Albert Gray, junior steward; Arnold G. H. Bode, organist; Daniel Lewis, Tyler.

Oliver L. Rawson of Monrovia, Inspector of the 93rd Masonic District, will preside as installing officer, while Thomas Miller, Jr., Past Master of Sierra Madre Lodge, will be master of ceremonies. The installation will be open to the public and all Masons are cordially invited to bring their families and friends. There will be musical and vocal entertainment and refreshments will be served.

What A Girl Sees

Ramblin' 'Round

THE holiday rush was not over for Postmaster R. O. Calkin and his aides with the last delivery of letters and packages on December 25. Since that time they have accumulated about 600 greeting cards, those bearing 1-cent stamps and which, according to postoffice regulations, are third class and not forwarded, unless the required amount of money for this service is left with the postoffice employees went through the envelopes containing the 600 cards for valuations, such as currency. Every envelope was opened at available intervals during the past two weeks. The cards were turned over to an agency which disposed of them in a very worthwhile manner. They were given to children for use in making scrapbooks.

Although rules and regulations for sending cards were conspicuously posted all over the country some people did not seem to understand that a three-cent stamp is required to make a letter or card first class mail. Over 10,000 pieces of undeliverable third class mail was reported in Pasadena.

Where a person has left a change of address first class mail and postcards are immediately sent on. Circulars however, and greeting cards bearing 1-cent postage, are not. The postoffice sends a notice to the forwarded address and upon receipt of the required amount of postage due, the mail is forwarded. But of course during the Christmas rush when getting out packages and first class mail keeps mailmen on the trot, it is impossible to do this. The moral of this story is, of course, not to expect first class service on third class mail, or, if you do not want your greeting cards to embellish a child's scrapbook, send them first class next Christmas.

Marc Connelly, playwright of "The Green Pastures" fame, which won the 1933 Pulitzer prize, and president of the Author's League of America, thinks Sierra Madre is pretty good, thanks to Lee Shippey. Last November Mr. Connelly sent out a Red Cross appeal. Lee's answer was an excellent boost for the city, for its splendid response to charity calls. In a recent letter to Mr. Shippey, Connelly said, "here is my tardy acknowledgment for enlightening me on the superiority of Sierra Madre in all matters of cosmic importance. And the pledge that I shall always hold Sierra Madre as a paragon to be emulated by charity committees in less blessed communities."

Five or six ripe plums are still left on the tree in Mrs. Clara Rood Akeley's yard, which astounded the Sierra Madrean and her neighbors by blossoming and bearing fruit twice during 1939. There were many specimens of the fruit, Mrs. Akeley said, but visiting friends took them home. —Viola Backes.

YOUR HOME AND MINE

BY ANNE WILSON

How about serving Crepes Suzettes at your next company dinner? "What!" you exclaim. "Make that fancy dessert that is served only at the best restaurants?"

Of course! Like so many other things which appear complicated to the uninitiated, Crepes Suzettes are comparably easy to make. And they are the kind of dessert which will bring you renown as a hostess.

Crepe Suzettes

¾ cup prepared pancake and waffle flour

3 eggs 1 cup milk

Separate eggs. Beat egg whites with electric mixer until stiff. Beat yolks, add flour and ½ cup milk. Stir until batter is smooth. Add rest of milk. Fold into egg whites and combine thoroughly. Grease a flat griddle and heat slowly. Pour a few tablespoons of batter on the griddle and spread thin. Bake slowly until brown; turn and brown on the other side. Spread with butter, orange marmalade or jam; roll into a cone-shape, sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve hot.

Whoever feels deeply, feels for all who live.—Mme. De Staël

AN ANNIVERSARY

Ninety-two years ago this week, a workman named James Marshall discovered gold on the south fork of the American River near Coloma.

That discovery gave California one of the greatest, justest booms in history as gold-seekers and fortune-hunters by the hundreds of thousands poured into the land whose very name, the "Golden State," was a tempting promise of wealth, opportunity, adventure, and unsurpassed riches.

Today, despite the hard blows of the depression, California still remains a land of promise, and from her horn of plenty still pours a glittering stream of the gold that made California. In 1939, the U. S. Bureau of Mines reported last week, more than in any year since the rip-roaring bonanza days of 1862. An output of $49,213,500 again proved California the greatest of the nation's gold-producing states.

Just as the settlers of three-score years ago began turning to the land when the first gold boom ebbed, so California finds in her teeming agricultural empire an enduring source of wealth.

This empire of field gold in 1939, the State Agricultural Bureau revealed the other day, could boast a 12 per cent increase in the value of its produce over 1938. Playing a part in that increase was some of the Golden Rule's spirit of cooperation, as farm organizations and nationwide retail distributors joined hands in farmer-consumer campaigns. As a result, such products as California's famous fruit, the orange, and that comparative newcomer, the avocado, were brought into increased consumption with tremendous success. All this spells a richer horn of plenty for this State.

In the foothills of the Sierra there is still gold. In the valleys there is soil that is rich and productive. In other resources we are favored far beyond most states. But do we have the faith, the will, and the vision? If so, we shall ever truly remain the Golden State.

IT'S ALWAYS GOOD

It is good to be an American at all times, but when machines of death in Europe haunt the skies, bristle along frontiers, and growl upon and under the seas, it is doubly a blessing to be an American.

Are the reasons hard to find? Were you Tommy Atkins, serving king and country in war, today you might be entombed in a submarine lying on the floor of the North Sea, as were scores of other Tommy Atkins last week when their submarine met disaster at the hands of a watchful enemy.

Were you John Pickwick, workman, not yet called to the colors for England's cause, more than one-third your wages—small though they might be—would be taken from you for the government's war chest.

Were you Josef Potocky, Polish grocer, guilty of no greater crime than having fought to save your country and survived, you would be quartered in a concentration camp with thousands of others, and left there to live or die.

Were you Carlos Mendoza, ex-Loyalist fighter, you would be sequestered in a concentration camp in France, fearful of returning to your wife and children in the homeland lest you be greeted by the welcoming music of a firing squad and put to rest under the bloodstained Spanish earth.

Were you Ivan Ivanovich, you would have the privilege of dying in some God-forsaken Finnish forest, shot by someone they said was your "enemy," or of being left wounded on the snow while merciless, cold winds made your blood sluggish, and slowed your heartbeat till it ceased ticking forever.

Were you Franz Schmidt, World War veteran, you would find your sons now in trenches—even as you yourself were 25 years ago—facing death for themselves, leaving a sword of terrible fear dangling over your head.

At all times it is good to be an American. Today it is good fortune in the highest.

VIEWED WITH ALARM

On the eve of the California legislature's special session, called to appropriate relief funds and vote new taxes, news coming out of Oklahoma enables this State to point with pride—or view with alarm.

Californians may pridefully point to the fact that at least one state CAN reduce expenses. Oklahoma's Governor Phillips has cut state expenditures $1,570,000 below appropriations since last July. At the present rate he will have saved his state $3,400,000 by the end of the fiscal year.

But hold on there! That word "Oklahoma" sounds familiar. Didn't they have a dust-bowl there once that sent, and sends, thousands of penniless persons flocking to California for this State to support? Could it be that Oklahoma's budget saving is just so much budget deficit for us?

Let he who will point with pride. We view with alarm.

Mrs. Blanche Wells of Glendale is visiting for an indefinite time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Gabriel, 145 East Alhambra avenue.

PENDULUM SWINGING BACK IN AMERICA, ECONOMIST SAYS

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

WHEN the pendulum swings, it always swings back. The watchmaker and the historian teach us that. "Everything which goes up must come down." Rudimentary science teaches us that. After the rain, there is sun. Nature teaches us that.

In other words, it is a fundamental law of life that extremes are always equalized!

During tempestuous days, when old standards seem to have fallen; when new ideologies seem to have supplanted basic truths; when radicalism seems to be in the ascendancy and temperate ways of life seem out-moded and old-fashioned; when diligence and industry seem to have become vices, and prodigality a virtue—the every-day, garden-variety American, who still believes in home-spun truths, may wonder a bit whether all natural laws have been overthrown and discarded.

But eventually, the pendulum swings back. It is swinging back today in the United States of America. Theatres, between the current glamour films, run a picture of Betsy Ross, with a home-made flag—and blase theatre crowds stamp their feet and clap their hands as the screen reads: "I pledge allegiance . . ." Ultra-liberals and even so-called radicals in the Legislature—the Sam Yortys and the Jack Tenneys—proudly outbid to join with Democrats and conservative Democrats in demanding that relief be purged of Communism and political manipulation. Harry Bridges, suddenly escaped from the threat of deportation, announces he will seek final citizenship papers—protection of the government he has condemned and ridiculed. An erstwhile relief recipient—draws his first check to the order of Uncle Sam, repaying the bounty that had been given him. And President Roosevelt, who started out to spend-America-rich, announces to Congress that every department of government, except national defense, had been cut and that prodigal spending must stop.

There will be much faltering along the way, but America, having drifted far to the left and looked over the brink, is swinging back to the right. Farmers who have feared that they were soon to become another alphabet division of the government can get back to tilling their land, with a fair degree of confidence that a booming bureaucracy won't try to take them over. Taxpayers who had despair of any relief from excessive tax increases can look forward to a fair degree of governmental retrenchment and economy—if they insist on securing it. And businesses and industries which have lived in fear and trembling of government emasculation may even hope (this hope is farther from realization) that political officeholders will finally decide that business men know more about business than politicians.

Many commentators and analysts may feel that as prophesy is far too optimistic. Admittedly, it is premature, for most of the changes either are just starting or are still to get under way. But among the people of California—and America—the sentiment for a return to normalcy already has crystallized. And the people of this Nation, when they really want something, can usually achieve it. In that respect, it differs from almost every other Nation on the face of the globe—and thoughtful citizens are still grateful for it.

Doubtless there is still rampant radicalism in many sections of the United States, particularly in many labor unions dominated by Communist leaders. But the recent report of the Dies committee—while it condemned radicalism and exposed man of its ramifications—estimated that not more than 1,000,000 of the 130,000,000 citizens of the United States have been seriously affected by subversive activities. "And the time may come," said the committee, "when they (the Communists) will cease to be seriously regarded by anyone in the United States."

The Dies Committee, too, notes reasons for the shift. The Soviet-Nazi pact, it reports, has helped protect constitutional democracy by "making more clear the real nature of all dictatorships." And while the C.I.O. is still Communist, the Committee finds that the overwhelming majority of the rank and file membership is shying away from radicalism.

There can be no doubt of this: The average American, disgusted with "isms," government experimentation and free-handed spending of his tax-given dollars, is anxious to get back to solid ground and old-fashioned standards. All that remains is for American leaders to take the public pulse—and having taken it, to come down to earth and start representing the people who elected them. The pendulum is swinging back.

Girl Scout News

Audrey Maiben was elected historian at a meeting of the Sierra Madre Girl Scouts January 17. Jean Goodrich won first prize in the Christmas card selling contest. She was given a subscription to the American Girl magazine. Ruth Coit won second prize.

The Scout Foot Travelers enjoyed a three mile hike up the Mount Wilson trail as far as the fire box, then took a nearby trail to the stream where they had their lunch. Each girl carried her knapsack which she had just finished. Those participating in the hike were June Wilcox, Lois Wilson, Jean Breton, Shirley Shelvan, Dorothy Parmenter, Jean Goodrich, Idella Taylor and Floretta Keith. Beatrice Emery and Priscilla Godeau were guests.

Interesting Pair At Bethany Tonight

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Fee, who for the last seven years have been working with the China Inland Mission in the interior of China and are now in California on furlough, will give an interesting program for the members of the Christian Fellowship Class and their friends at Bethany Hall this evening. Mr. Fee will show a series of photographs, many in color, which he has made in various parts of China during the last seven years. He and Mrs. Fee will also talk informally of their experiences in the Chinese interior. While in this country, Mr. and Mrs. Fee are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Brooks in Altadena.

RECOGNITION COMES TO DON MILLER

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

Now is the time to get after the fast growing weeds around the garage and along the fences. Soon it will require a great deal of effort to remove them. That growth around the incinerator will get very dry and inflammable soon after the rains cease. This is also a good time to clean out the garage of the accumulation of rags that were used to wipe off the car. A good place for them is the incinerator, but the incinerator should be a safe one. If there are any doubts as to the safety of your incinerator, call the fire chief for an inspection. He will be glad to cooperate with you in making it safe. All burning must be done before 9 a.m. It is not necessary to have a permit to burn in an incinerator before 9 a.m., but it is a violation of a city ordinance to start an open or exposed fire north of Grand View avenue at any time without first obtaining a permit. A convenient copy of the Fire Regulations has been printed and obtainable at the city hall.

Tonight is regular meeting night for the firemen and the usual noise will be heard roaring over the heads of the people who happen to walk by the "Quarters." Without a good argument, a firemen's meeting would be a dud.

OBITUARY

JOHN M. WYLAND

Funeral services for John M. Wyland, who passed away Thursday, January 18, at his home 217 Ramona avenue, were conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the mortuary of Turner and Stevens, with Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard officiating. Interment was at San Gabriel cemetery.

Mr. Wyland who was 75 years of age, was born September 8, 1864, in Overland, Mo., and had lived in Sierra Madre about five and a half years. Besides his wife, Lillie B. Wyland, he is survived by three sons, Charles M. of Galesburg, Ill.; Arthur, Overland, Mo.; and Everett, of St. Louis, Mo.

HARRY THORP

Funeral services for Harry Thorp, former resident of this city, who died following a heart attack while at work in the press room of the Los Angeles Times on Friday, were conducted Monday afternoon at Pierce Brothers in Los Angeles. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Thorp formerly lived at 170 West Highland avenue. They moved to Los Angeles last summer and made their home at 1757 New England street. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sandage attended the funeral services.

The battle over Finland has moved from the icy wastes of Lake Ladoga to the halls of the United States Congress. But on Capitol Hill, as in the rest of the country, there is disagreement on what should be done. Between the dictates of the heart which arouse strong sympathy for an underdog fighting against tremendous odds, and the cool, cautious counsel of the head, which warns against entangling itself in foreign conflicts, there is a wide gulf. Nevertheless, for some, the gulf has not been too wide to leap. However deeply sympathies, and fears, have been aroused over the case of Finland, may be judged from the fact that Rep. Hamilton Fish, veteran isolationist, warmly endorsed a large loan to the Finnish republic, while President Roosevelt, never an isolationist, has only mildly suggested—but not urged—a non-military loan and left the whole decision in the hands of Congress.

But it may be asked if we now establish the precedent of advancing credits to an embattled neutral or belligerent, can we, in all fairness, deny it to another needy country at some future date? While there is time, we must decide whether our hearts or our heads shall guide the fateful steps of the nation's foreign policy! Aged persons, "in their second childhood," should be denied the right to vote, according to Dr. Raymond Pearl of Johns Hopkins university. His reason: Too many votes for old age pensions. Thanks to those inventive pioneers who brought a gasoline-powered vehicle into existence that found favor with millions, the news that the automotive industry is today leading the recovery drive with over 200,000 units already produced this year—is something to cheer about. Outstanding as a job-builder, the automotive industry has generated more than $85 billion in wages since 1900.

BIBLE FAVORITES

THE KING OF BABYLON CAME WITH HIS ARMIES INTO THE LAND OF CANAAN AND CONQUERED THE KINGDOM OF JUDAH. THE KING COMMANDED, "SELECT THE FINEST, WISEST AND BEST LOOKING YOUNG HEBREW BOYS AND BRING THEM TO MY PALACE IN BABYLON. I WILL TRAIN THEM TO SERVE ME."

DANIEL AND THREE OF HIS FRIENDS WERE AMONG THOSE SELECTED. THE KING APPOINTED THEM FOOD AND WINE FROM HIS OWN TABLE. "IN THREE YEARS," HE SAID, "THESE BOYS WILL BE READY TO SERVE ME." DANIEL DETERMINED NOT TO EAT THE KING'S RICH FOOD, NOR TO DRINK HIS WINE.

DANIEL SAID TO MELZAR, WHO HAD CHARGE OF THE YOUNG MEN, "PLEASE BRING US PLAIN FOOD TO EAT AND WATER TO DRINK FOR TEN DAYS. THEN SEE IF WE ARE NOT STRONGER THAN THOSE WHO EAT THE KING'S MEAT AND DRINK HIS WINE." MELZAR CONSENTED TO DO THIS.

AFTER TEN DAYS DANIEL AND HIS FRIENDS WERE FAIRER AND STRONGER THAN THOSE WHO ATE FROM THE KING'S TABLE. FOR THREE YEARS MELZAR GAVE THEM PULSE, A PLAIN NOURISHING FOOD, AND NO WINE. THE KING FOUND THEM TEN TIMES BETTER THAN ALL HIS WISEST MEN.

Sierra MadreWoman's Club Notes

One of the finest programs to be given thus far this season at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, was presented Wednesday afternoon through the courtesy of Mrs. J. S. Billheimer, when Leota Littlejohn, dramatic soprano of the San Francisco Grand Opera company appeared in a concert.

Musical lovers among the clubwomen responded warmly to the artist, whose rich soprano voice, voice, of exceptional range and depth of tone, and her charming personality, captivated her audience. Her program included early Italian, German, English, operatic and modern numbers. Those accorded the warmest applause were the Puccini "Mio Dio" from "La Forza del Destino," by Verdi; "The Cry of Rachel," Turner; and Polly Flinders, Diack. Understanding and adequate support was given the soloist by Jut Williams of Monrovia, who accompanied.

As a charming compliment to the hostess of the afternoon, Mrs. W. J. Lawless, who is also garden chairman of the club, Mrs. J. S. Billheimer gave two readings, "Garden and You," Mary Anderson Hale; and "A Rosary of Flowers," Carrethers. Members of the club are always delighted with Mrs. Billheimer's ability either in readings or songs, as her appearance adds appreciably to the interest of any program.

The clubrooms were attractively decorated with arrangements of snapdragons and calendulas by Mrs. William Wersted who is in charge of decorations this month. Mrs. W. J. Lawless and Miss Pearl Smith presided at the table, which was centered with an arrangement of papyrus and narcissus, created by Mrs. Alyce Anderson.

Members of the committee assisting Mrs. Lawless were Miss Smith, Mmes. A. E. Puling, A. S. Myers, Adria Johnson and John H. Robertson. Mrs. M. A. Copps was in charge of the Thrift Shop which opened Wednesday and of the cooked food sale which she will continue to conduct at each club meeting in conjunction with the sale of articles from the shop. Mrs. Copps will appreciate assistance from members in assembling

TRAVELERS RUN INTO SOME BAD WEATHER

Mr. and Mrs. Nester A. Young, 209 West Highland avenue, returned from a weeks' business and pleasure trip to Visalia and vicinity. They found the weather in the San Joaquin valley unusually cold and also encountered the low, heavy fogs which have blanketed the southern half of the valley recently, making driving extremely difficult and hazardous.

SHOWALTERS LONG FOR SIERRA MADRE

Letters received recently by the Thomas Mylotts and Irving Wards from Captain and Mrs. Charles B. Showalter, indicate that while they enjoy their old home in Indianapolis, they are very homesick for Sierra Madre and their friends here. The most difficult day in the week, state the Showalters, is Tuesday, when with the arrival of the Sierra Madre News their longing for the Wistaria Town is intensified.

Kiwanis Bowlers Organizing Teams

Difficulties confronting the Tournament of Roses Association since its organization were described by Harlan G. Loud, president of the association, at Tuesday's Kiwanis meeting. Many of the worries of the group centered around the movement of the parade through the streets, and the many traffic obstacles.

Bad weather Tuesday evening put a damper on the first tryout for a Kiwanis bowling team, but Frank Spencer, John Fitzgerald, Lee Evans, Clarence Hunsinger, S. E. McElfresh, Waverly Pratt, Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, and Rudy Hartman turned out at a Pasadena bowling alley. Next Tuesday evening a bigger crowd, probably 25, is expected to play, and as soon as a sufficient number is interested, teams will be formed, captained by Frank Spencer and Lee Evans.

PROPERTY OWNER HAS NEW EXPERIENCE

B. J. Scannell could't believe his eyes back in Omaha, Neb., the other day when he received a check from City Clerk Waverly Pratt and a letter explaining that the check represented a refund on payment made by Mr. Scannell for the improvement of Manzanita avenue, where he owns property.

"... It is the first time in an experience of over 50 years in handling properties that I ever had a return of this kind made to me," Mr. Scannell wrote back to Pratt.

R. L. Smith, 37 Auburn avenue, is among the late Sierra Madre newcomers.

'Round The Town

The Camp Fire Girls executive board of Pasadena will have a dinner meeting at the Altadena Golf Club, Wednesday evening, January 31. Members from Sierra Madre, Pasadena, Monrovia and other foothill towns will attend.

A nature hike along Sturtevant Trail and afternoon refreshments enjoyed out of doors, were the activities for the Wistaria Blue Birds, Monday. They were accompanied on the outing by their guardian Mrs. C. Lauren Maltby.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barrett of Los Angeles, former residents of the city, will return to Sierra Madre to make their home at 56 Morton avenue next week.

Miss Janine Salle will arrive in Sierra Madre Sunday from New York. During her stay in the city she will be with Mrs. Anna Block at 544 Oakdale drive and will continue her studies in dramatics and dancing. Miss Salle is a friend of Mrs. John Q. Copeland.

The present moment is all we can call our own for works of mercy, of righteous dealing, and of family tenderness.

—George Eliot.

With Sierra Madre Students At Wilson Jr. High

Adding to the collection of previous years, the February graduating class of Wilson will buy a memorial plaque for the walk in front of the school with part of the money received from the 10-2 plays. The rest of the money will be turned over to A. M. Brown, principal, to use at his discretion in furnishing the new south wing which is nearing completion.

Over 100 girls took in the volleyball playday, January 16, at Wilson, when the Wilson girls were hostesses to Marshall. Miss Claire Colestock, assistant director of physical education for Pasadena City Schools, speaking on "The Spirit of Playdays," stressed the opportunity they afford for girls of different schools, "to enjoy playing for fun without the over-stimulation of interschool competition," and for making pleasant social contacts that offer development of friendships.
